

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

Wheeler & Wilson attachments are easy to put on and they work right.

How many of our legislative solons will spend their first Sunday in Tallahassee trying to locate a few of the "blind tigers" of which they have heard so much?

The malcontents of Santo Domingo are again rising in revolt against their government. But they are likely to be thoroughly squelched this time, as President Roosevelt has in effect formed a protectorate over the existing regime there and is likely to use United States forces to "maintain the status quo," as he puts it.

Attorney-General L. R. Rogers on March 27 instituted the first suits under the new anti-trust law of Arkansas. The defendants are the German Alliance Insurance Company and the Hartford Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., which are alleged to have transacted business in this State since the new law became effective, and to have violated the anti-compact clause of the act.

Governor Frazier, just before resigning on March 27, vetoed the bill to increase the salary of the Governor of Tennessee from $4,000 to $5,000. He claimed that the bill is in conflict with the State Constitution. Later in the day Governor Frazier resigned his office, having been elected United States Senator, and John I. Cox, Speaker of the State Senate, was sworn in as Governor.

John G. Collins has launched upon the turbulent sea of Tallahassee journalism The True Democrat, and it is a beauty. Our old friend Collins knows what to do with printing material, and being thoroughly conversant with the needs of the Capital City in the newspaper line, we predict a prosperous and successful existence for his sparkling gem. —Taylor County Topics.

Mrs. D. W. Syfret, while preparing a cabbage preparatory to cooking for dinner Monday, found imbedded therein a small snake about two inches long. Mr. Syfret says his family has cut the cabbage out from now on. It will be remembered that about a year ago a whole family in a small Georgia town died from eating cabbage that was cooked with one of those little reptiles in it.

Millard Dukes, of Georgia, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Hodges last Monday, on the charge of distilling liquor without having the required license from the national government. The accused was held for action by the grand jury at the next term of the United States Court, and his bond was placed at $500.

Vol. 1, No. 1, the March issue of the Florida State College Bulletin, to be issued quarterly, is before us. It is full of the very best reading matter, is a very interesting 32 page magazine and deserves a liberal patronage from all over the State, particularly so from Tallahasseeans. Space prevents further notice of the Bulletin this week, but we will give it a write-up in our next issue. There is no imprint on it. We publish our imprint on all work of this kind that goes out of this office.

Printing. No matter what your business, use good printing; it's the dress by which the public judge you. We can please you and make your printing a profitable investment. We do nothing but clean, first-class work, and do it for what the other kind costs you.

Only one machine in a lifetime is necessary if you buy the Wheeler & Wilson No. 9 from L. C. Yaeger.

Our Paper Again.

In referring to Tallahassee's new paper, the American Press, of New York, facetiously says: "Either David B. Hill or William J. Bryan must have removed to Florida, for the report reaches us that a new paper has been started in that State called The True Democrat." A "true Democrat" can, fortunately, be "started" up almost anywhere in Leon county, without calling upon either of the distinguished statesmen referred to. John G. Collins may not be as famous as Bryan or the sored sage of Wolfert's Roost, but he knows how to "get there" just the same—which is considerably more than can be said of either of the other two "true Democrats." —S. B. Russ' Short Talks, in Times-Union.

See us before you purchase; we are certain we can save you money, and we guarantee satisfaction. J. P. S. Houstoun and Dr. Butts are now in the markets, and in a few days we will have another large carload to select from. —Montford & Houstoun.

An entertainment entitled "The Carnival of Nations" will be rendered at Opera House on Tuesday evening, April 25, by the students of Leon Graded and High Schools. The children expect to give the public a really enjoyable evening and hope to be liberally patronized, as the proceeds will be used to pay for the piano purchased some time since, but not yet settled for.

One of the most important things for the development of this State will probably come before the next Legislature—a geological survey of Florida. Who knows what is under the soil of Florida? Every day something new comes to light. A geological survey will let it be known what capital is ready to develop and we hope that our legislators will be wise enough to give us the needed survey. —Wewahatcha News.

The trial of Nan Patterson, for the murder of Caesar Young, will be begun in New York early in April before Recorder Goff in the Court of General Sessions. At the request of District Attorney Jerome, Justice Fitzgerald removed the case from the Supreme Court, where it was, to the Court of General Sessions. The reason alleged is that there probably would not be a Supreme Court Justice at liberty to try the case at that time, and the trial must be held then unless the prisoner were to be discharged.

Neat job printer. Collins.
